

Alan Czarnik Joins Bacompt's Business Development Team

November 2015
Carmel, Indiana
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Bacompt, a leading provider of data processing, printing, and mailing of information-sensitive documents, announces the addition of Alan Czarnik as Director of Business Development. Czarnik brings more than 25 years of printing and communication supply-chain experience with a focus on business development, operational efficiencies, and world-class customer service.

As an entrepreneur for most of his career, Czarnik was the principal of a print communications organization where he brought a balance of traditional printing experience blended with expertise in technical innovations. For Bacompt, Czarnik will work with customers to develop results-oriented document processing workflows and solutions within a high-security and highly regulated environment.

"I'm thrilled for the opportunity to apply my background in addressing the challenges presented by today's standards of privacy," says Czarnik.

"Protecting PII, or personally identifiable information, is more critical than ever, and our customers are feeling the pressure," explains Dwayne Hurt, Executive Vice President and COO at Bacompt. "We're very fortunate to have Alan on our team, working with our clients to deliver the highest standards in security for their document solutions."

About Bacompt
